PLENARY SESSION:

OPENING PLENARY SESSION

Tuesday, September 22, 4:00 PM - 5:45 PM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd Floor

The opening plenary session will frame the agenda for the three days to follow at CGI. World leaders will identify critical areas for action and collaboration across a multitude of sectors, ranging from education and energy and climate change to global health and economic empowerment. Recognizing the stresses that stakeholders are feeling due to the economic downturn, CGI's four program areas will stress achievable ways to empower communities, harness innovation for development, strengthen infrastructure, build human capital, finance an equitable future, and invest in girls and women. Panelists will explain both why and how everyone has a role to play as businesses, organizations, and individuals identify creative new approaches for addressing the major global challenges of our time.

REMARKS:

Barack Obama, 44th President, United States of America

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

William Jefferson Clinton, 42nd President, United States of America; Founding Chairman, Clinton Global Initiative

Michelle Bachelet, President of the Republic of Chile

Kevin Rudd, Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of Australia

Mike Duke, President and CEO, Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

Muhtar Kent, Chairman of the Board and CEO, The Coca-Cola Company

---

SPECIAL SESSION:

THE G-20 AND ITS IMPACT ON GLOBAL CHALLENGES

Tuesday, September 22, 6:00 PM - 7:00 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

With a focus on major modern challenges – growing populations, natural resource scarcity, global warming, dynamic global and financial markets, strains on social systems, and incomplete economic opportunity for billions of people – this session will enable G-20 Heads of State who represent the largest economies in the world to preview their positions in advance of the G-20 meeting in Pittsburgh. G-20 world leaders will describe their outlook for the future and suggest opportunities to enhance cooperation among governments, businesses, and civil society on issues of shared interest and importance that underpin a sustainable and prosperous future.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Jan Peter Balkenende, Prime Minister of the Netherlands

Cristina Fernández de Kirchner, President of The Argentine Republic

Dominique Strauss-Kahn, Managing Director, International Monetary Fund

SPECIAL SESSION:

APPROACHES TO INNOVATION

Wednesday, September 23, 8:00 AM - 8:45 AM ★ Empire East, 2nd Floor

(Sign-up required)

At a time when the world finds itself on an unsustainable course, facing an increasing number of complex challenges for which traditional approaches are no longer sufficient, innovation stands as a key to addressing many of the issues confronting us today. During this session, experts in the field will discuss the importance of innovation as a vehicle for building a sustainable future. Where does innovation begin? What should be the role of government in promoting and facilitating innovation? Which countries are leading the charge, and how do you best position yourself and your organization to take advantage? This panel will provide a broad introduction to innovation, various approaches to cultivate it, and implications for those who pursue it and those who don't.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

William Drayton, Founder and CEO, Ashoka

Kathleen M. Eisenhardt, S.W. Ascherman Professor of Strategy and Organization, School of Engineering, Stanford University

Reena Jana, Editor, Innovation Department, BusinessWeek

John Kao, Chairman, The Institute for Large Scale Innovation

PLENARY SESSION:

INVESTING IN GIRLS AND WOMEN

Wednesday, September 23, 9:00 AM - 10:30 AM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd floor

Every problem in the world is exacerbated by gender inequality. Even though women make up 50 percent of the world's population, girls and women continuously lack the same access as men to education, health care, jobs, and the political arena. Yet each year of schooling increases a woman's income by 10 to 20 percent, and closing the gender gap adds 0.5 percent to a country's per capita GNP. Smart businesses appreciate that increased support for girls and women is integral to fostering successful markets for the future. Innovative programs are already producing remarkable results, and far-seeing countries and organizations are finding that reaching out to girls and women deepens confidence, creates opportunity, and raises profits. This panel will examine a few notable success stories.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Edna Adan, Founder, Edna Adan Maternity and Teaching Hospital; Former First Lady of Somalia

Lloyd C. Blankfein, Chairman and CEO, The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc.

Zainab Salbi, Founder and CEO, Women for Women International

Diane Sawyer, Co-anchor, "Good Morning America"; Co-anchor, "Primetime"

Rex Tillerson, Chairman and CEO, ExxonMobil

Melanne Vermeer, Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues, Office of the Secretary, U.S. Department of State

Robert B. Zoellick, President, The World Bank Group

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:

GREEN VEHICLES

Wednesday, September 23, 9:00 AM - 10:30 AM ★ Liberty 3, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Motor vehicles contribute significantly to climate change and air pollution. Achieving truly sustainable personal transportation requires balancing competing and complementary approaches to alternative energy sources, vehicle production and distribution, and public policy. This session aims to inspire new ways of thinking that will push current initiatives to the next level, by bringing together industry, utilities, entrepreneurs, advocacy groups, government officials and policy experts to discuss cutting edge technologies and surface the challenges and opportunities brought about by the current regulatory/policy climate, commercial markets, the economy, and consumer sentiment.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
STRENGTHENING HEALTH SYSTEMS

Wednesday, September 23, 9:00 AM - 10:30 AM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Although billions of dollars have been raised and spent in the fight against HIV/AIDS over the past 20 years, other health indicators - including those related to chronic diseases - continue to stagnate. This Action Network is intended for members with an interest in strengthening health systems, and will examine how existing and new mechanisms for prevention, delivery and treatment can combat the dual burden of chronic and infectious disease, and establish a sustainable, integrated healthcare model. This includes topics such as human resources for health, health care financing, management of the public sector, and logistical support.

COMMITMENT NETWORKING SESSION:
EDUCATION AND GLOBAL HEALTH

Wednesday, September 23, 11:00 AM - 12:30 PM ★ New York East, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Quality education and viable health care are two of the most important factors necessary for vulnerable populations around the world to build a better future. Over 70 million children will never see the inside of a primary school classroom, and another 226 million will never continue onto secondary school. Global health issues are far-reaching and varied, ranging from infectious and chronic diseases, to environmental factors, virus mutation and drug resistance, and an inadequate workforce. Despite these challenges, new, exciting models are emerging to improve access to education and health care.

The sub-topic groups for this session will include: education and technology; primary education; secondary/continuing education; health innovations; health of girls and women; and health infrastructure/systems.

FACILITATED BY:

Tom Kalil, Deputy Director for Policy, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy; Senior Advisor for Science, Technology and Innovation, National Economic Council

ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT AND CROSS-CUTTING APPROACHES

Wednesday, September 23, 11:00 AM - 12:30 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Today's global economy is creating faster, deeper, and broader economic growth than at any other time in history. But that growth has been accompanied by widening disparities between rich and poor, and in every part of the world poverty robs individuals of dignity and opportunity. The combination of strategic philanthropy, sound policy, and private sector innovation offers new opportunities to empower those at the base of the pyramid through education, employment, and access to the financial tools needed to build an economic base and contribute to long-term economic development.

The subtopic groups for this session will include: access to capital and financial services; accelerating entrepreneurship and enterprise; investment in human capital; improvements to infrastructure; and cross-cutting approaches to social impact.

FACILITATED BY:

James Carville, Democratic Strategist; Political Commentator, CNN

COMMITMENT NETWORKING SESSION: ENERGY AND CLIMATE CHANGE

Wednesday, September 23, 11:00 AM - 12:30 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd Floor

(Sign-up required)

As the early effects of climate change begin to be felt, governments, private citizens, corporations, and NGOs around the world have begun to actively implement new, more strategic, mitigation schemes. The climate crisis will only be solved by crossing borders and opening board rooms, and by bringing together the most innovative and forward-thinking leaders of our time to challenge assumptions, catalyze promising solutions, and set the aggressive timelines necessary for effective action.

The sub-topic groups for this session will include: energy efficiency; clean energy; ecosystems and natural infrastructure; and training and awareness raising.

FACILITATED BY:

Reggie Van Lee, Senior Vice President, Booz Allen Hamilton

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
ACCESS TO CLEAN WATER AND EFFECTIVE SANITATION

Wednesday, September 23, 11:00 AM - 12:30 PM ★ Liberty 3, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Today, more than 1 billion people lack ready access to safe water and almost 3 billion have no access to a safe toilet. This Action Network will enable participants from across these sectors to identify points of collaboration and knowledge exchange, while identifying cutting edge solutions to this critical crisis.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
EMPOWERING WOMEN

Wednesday, September 23, 11:30 AM - 1:00 PM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Girls and women still lack equal access to education, healthcare, jobs, and political participation. This session will bring together CGI members working on issues related to the empowerment of women to discuss best strategies, identify gaps in member work, and catalyze new collaborations and partnerships.

PLENARY SESSION:
HARNESSING INNOVATION FOR DEVELOPMENT

Wednesday, September 23, 1:00 PM - 2:15 PM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd Floor

The year 2008 will come to be recognized as the turning point when a series of crises gripped the planet: the spike in oil prices, the world food shortage, and the global financial meltdown. Add these to the list of ongoing mega-problems and it becomes clear that innovation on a massive scale is required to move us toward a more sustainable world. This plenary session explores the innovation strategies needed to effectively address the planetary crises we now face. From incremental improvements within existing modes of operation to leapfrog innovations in clean technology and bottom-up business creation models to serve the poor, panelists will discuss which strategies they consider critical to effectively harness innovation for sustainable development.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Matthew Bishop, New York Bureau Chief and American Business Editor, The Economist

Al Gore, Chairman, The Alliance for Climate Protection

Jack Ma, Chairman and CEO, Alibaba Group

Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala, Managing Director, The World Bank Group

Judith Rodin, President, The Rockefeller Foundation

Muhammad Yunus, Founder and Managing Director, Grameen Bank

INNOVATION BREAKOUT SESSION:

TOWNHALL: DRIVING DISRUPTIVE INNOVATION FROM THE BASE OF THE PYRAMID

Wednesday, September 23, 2:45 PM - 4:30 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd Floor

(Sign-up required)

In the wake of the global economic crisis, inequity continues to rise almost everywhere in the world. More than 4 billion people at the base of the income pyramid (BoP) still earn less than three dollars per day. To create more inclusive forms of enterprise, the private sector has implemented an array of disruptively innovative new technologies and commercialization strategies.

But as important as these strategies have been, they represent only partial solutions. Disruptive technologies threaten established players at the top of the pyramid in established markets, while BoP ventures focused on social development tend to overlook environmental sustainability. The crucial next step is to therefore merge these strategies in a "Great Convergence," the promise of which will be the focus of this panel. (Global challenges emphasized: economic empowerment and energy & climate change)

OPENING REMARKS:

Dimitri Panayotopoulos, Vice Chair, Global Household Care, Procter & Gamble

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Rajendra K. Pachauri, Director General, The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI)

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Harish H Hande, Managing Director, SELCO Solar Light (P) Ltd

Stuart L. Hart, Topic Leader, Innovation, Clinton Global Initiative; Samuel C. Johnson Chair, Sustainable Global Enterprise; Professor of Management, Johnson School of Management, Cornell University

Fred P. Keller, Chairman and CEO, Cascade Engineering, Inc.

Craig Mundie, Chief Research and Strategy Officer, Microsoft Corporation

Jacqueline Novogratz, Chief Executive Officer, Acumen Fund

INNOVATION BREAKOUT SESSIONS:

SEMINAR: BECOMING EMBEDDED: CO-CREATING BUSINESS WITH THE COMMUNITY

Wednesday, September 23, 2:45 PM - 4:30 PM ★ New York East, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Smart companies are trying to rethink global strategies and get beyond one-size-fits-all solutions. Increasingly, companies viewed as outsiders – alien to both the cultures and the ecosystems within which they do business – are finding it difficult to realize their full economic and social potential. A key innovation challenge is for companies to become more indigenous in the communities they seek to serve. Doing so requires that they broaden their bandwidth by involving voices that have previously gone unheard to co-create businesses with local partners. A more inclusive form of capitalism thus requires innovation not only in technology, but also in business processes and mindsets. This panel will discuss the challenges and opportunities for businesses seeking to become more locally embedded. (Global challenges emphasized: economic empowerment)

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Muhammad Yunus, Founder and Managing Director, Grameen Bank

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Gordon A. Enk, Vice President of Strategy and Co-Founder, Enterprise for a Sustainable World

Paul Polak, Founder, IDE, D-Rev, and Windhorse International

Simona Rocchi, Director, Sustainable Design, Philips

Erik Nikolajs Simanis, Senior Researcher, Center for Sustainable Global Enterprise, Johnson School of Management, Cornell University

Doug Solomon, Chief Technology Officer, IDEO

INNOVATION BREAKOUT SESSION:

TOWNHALL: ENTERPRISE-BASED STRATEGIES FOR HEALTH AND EDUCATION

Wednesday, September 23, 2:45 PM - 4:30 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

With the IT revolution and the explosion of mobile phone and Internet connectivity around the world, new options for health care and education are becoming possible. Enterprise-based models in e-health and e-education are rapidly emerging with profound implications for how these services are delivered. Disruptive innovations like online learning and point-of-care health technologies will revolutionize their industries in the coming decade. As the United States and other developed countries struggle to control the cost of health care, to provide universal coverage, and to educate the population for the 21st century, commercial solutions that generate local livelihoods in underserved communities may provide the innovative new models needed to achieve real reform. This panel will examine the latest innovations in enterprise-based models for health and education.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Madeleine Albright, Chair, Albright Stonebridge Group

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Douglas Alexander, Secretary of State for International Development, United Kingdom

Nancy Barry, President, NBA Enterprise Solutions to Poverty

Angela F. Braly, President and CEO, WellPoint, Inc.

Claudia Harner-Jay, Senior Commercialization Officer, Tech Solutions, PATH

Karl Lintel, Senior Director Global Access, Emerging Markets Business Unit, Pfizer Inc

Shaffi Mather, Founder, Ambulance Access for All and Education Access for All

Kevin McGovern, Chairman, The Water Initiative, LLC

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:

INNOVATIVE APPROACHES TO NUTRITION AND FOOD SYSTEMS

Wednesday, September 23, 2:45 PM - 4:30 PM ★ Liberty 3, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Sustainable food systems can reduce malnutrition and hunger while also protecting the environment and strengthening economies. Around the world, communities depend on the environmental health of farmers' fields and the economic health of local businesses. The active participation of the private, public, and non-profit sectors is essential for developing a sustainable food and agriculture system.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:

INVESTING IN GIRLS

Wednesday, September 23, 2:45 PM - 4:30 PM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

All over the world, young girls are denied the same opportunities as boys: an education, a job, a life free of abuse. In the world's poorest countries, 46 percent of girls lack any access to primary education. Half of sexual assaults are against girls younger than 15, and in sub-Saharan Africa, 75 percent of HIV-infected youth are female. Many CGI members are focused on investing in girls' education, health, and social development. The session will bring together these members to share their strategies and identify new investments that need to be made.

SPECIAL SESSION: FROM CEO TO NGO

Wednesday, September 23, 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd floor
(Sign-up required)

During this session, former executives will come together to discuss the importance of philanthropy and how their background in the private sector has allowed them to effectively take part in non-profit organizations and foundations. When their main focus is on improving the global community and not their bottom line, what advice do they have for the private sector? And, what do they know from their current work that they wish they had known when they were only running multi-million for-profit dollar enterprises? This panel will showcase not only how non-profits can learn from the business community but how the business community can learn from non-profits.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Eli Broad, Founder, The Eli & Edythe Broad Foundation
Chrystia Freeland, U.S. Managing Editor, The Financial Times
Ted Turner, Chairman, Turner Enterprises, Inc.
Bob Wright, Co-Founder, Autism Speaks; Senior Advisor, Lee Equity Partners

SPECIAL SESSION:
NORTHERN IRELAND - BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Wednesday, September 23, 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor
(Sign-up required)

Forged in 1998, the historic Good Friday peace accord has provided a backdrop for ongoing progress in Northern Ireland. A key factor in sustaining the momentum of recent years is economic growth, yet this region has been affected disproportionately by the global economic downturn. This session will discuss the factors necessary for Northern Ireland's recovery by increasing its appeal to foreign investors, improving local business's reach to markets in the U.S., and utilizing the talents of young people in the region through entrepreneurship. Discussions will also focus on how Northern Ireland's successes can be an inspiration to other post-conflict economies throughout the world.

William Jefferson Clinton, 42nd President, United States of America; Founding Chairman, Clinton Global Initiative
Peter Robinson, First Minister, Northern Ireland Assembly
Martin McGuinness, Deputy First Minister, Northern Ireland Assembly
Declan Kelly, Economic Envoy to Northern Ireland, U.S. Department of State
Shaun Woodward, Secretary of State for Northern Ireland, United Kingdom
Micheál Martin, Minister for Foreign Affairs, Republic of Ireland

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
CONTRIBUTING TO HAITI'S FUTURE

Wednesday, September 23, 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor
(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

In 2008, in the wake of hurricanes that killed nearly 800 people in Haiti and caused $1 billion in damage, CGI members responded with over $130 million of commitments to help Haiti "build back better." As Haiti continues to rebuild, this Action Network presents a critical opportunity for attendees who have commitments in Haiti to reinvigorate this powerful network and to engage additional members who are interested in Haiti.

CGI EXCHANGE

Wednesday, September 23, 2009, 5:00 PM – 8:00 PM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd Floor

This public exhibition allows members to feature their ongoing commitments and new partnership opportunities.

AN EVENING AT MOMA

Wednesday, September 23, 2009, 8:00 PM – 10:00 PM ★ Museum of Modern Art

CGI members come together to network and celebrate the convening of the Fifth Annual Meeting.

Day 3: Thursday, September 24, 2009

MEMBER REGISTRATION

Thursday, September 24, 2009, 7:00 AM – 8:00 PM ★ Hudson Market

CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST

Thursday, September 24, 2009, 8:00 AM – 9:00 AM ★ 2nd Floor

PLENARY SESSION:

STRENGTHENING INFRASTRUCTURE

Thursday, September 24, 9:00 AM - 10:00 AM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd floor

Strong and vibrant infrastructure is central to solving pressing global challenges, from improving health care delivery and reducing poverty, to fixing slums and responding to global warming. But today we are seriously under-investing in the world's physical and institutional infrastructure. As CGI's Annual Meeting unfolds, G-20 leaders will gather in Pittsburgh to confront the economic slowdown. Public works investment and new information technology can provide a foundation for recovery by facilitating job creation, unleashing private sector investment, and promoting an equitable transition to a lower-carbon and more prosperous global economy. This plenary session will explore how strategic public investment in smarter infrastructure can create opportunities for industry, address deep social needs, promote effective public-private collaboration, and jumpstart the world economy.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Kofi Annan, Former Secretary General, United Nations; President, Kofi Annan Foundation

John T. Chambers, Chairman and CEO, Cisco

Carlos Ghosn, Chairman and CEO, Renault-Nissan Alliance

Jeffrey Immelt, Chairman and CEO, General Electric

Kristina Peterson, President, Gemini Solar Development Company; Vice President, Finance, Suntech America

Ray Suarez, Senior Correspondent, The NewsHour

INFRASTRUCTURE BREAKOUT SESSION:

TOWNHALL: THE INFRASTRUCTURE OF HUMAN DIGNITY: PROTECTING THE MOST VULNERABLE

Thursday, September 24, 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd floor

(Sign-up required)

Modern delivery systems for health care, safe drinking water, sanitation, nutrition, clean energy, and education are essential for meeting basic human needs. Without proper infrastructure, many people go unfed, children go without reliable water or sleep in makeshift homes, and the sick and dying are denied adequate medical attention. Patterns of infrastructure development, planning, and investment determine our ability to realize the goals of reversing global poverty, increasing rural economic development, and expanding access to quality health care. This panel will look at the human consequences of physical infrastructure investments, with a special emphasis on improving health outcomes through better sanitation, increased water supplies, expanded food availability, rebuilding slums, and training and human capital.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Nicholas D. Kristof, Columnist, The New York Times; Co-Author, "Half the Sky"

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Haris Silajdžić, President of Bosnia and Herzegovina

Paul Farmer, Founder, Partners in Health

Wangari Muta Maathai, Founder, The Green Belt Movement, Kenya

Ingrid Munro, Founder, Jamii Bora Trust; Group CEO, Jamii Bora Group

John Podesta, President and CEO, Center for American Progress

Robert E. Rubin, Co-Chair, Council on Foreign Relations; Former U.S. Secretary of the Treasury

INFRASTRUCTURE BREAKOUT SESSION:

SEMINAR: INFRASTRUCTURE OF RECOVERY: GOOD JOBS AND SMART GROWTH

Thursday, September 24, 10:30 PM - 12:30 PM ★ New York East, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Global recession has slowed private sector investment and caused rampant job loss. In response, governments around the world are investing in economic recovery through forward-looking public works projects. This new generation of infrastructure investments – from broadband networks to transit systems to clean energy technology – is laying the groundwork for global deployment of advanced technology and private sector innovation. The response to the economic crisis has set the stage for a new generation of smarter infrastructure empowered by better use of information and more efficient use of resources. Outdated development patterns are being “leap-frogged.” This session provides an opportunity to reflect on progress one year into the economic crisis and to examine the relationship between the public and private sectors.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

William H. Frist, University Distinguished Professor, Vanderbilt University

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Jacob J. Lew, Deputy Secretary of State for Management and Resources, U.S. Department of State

Reema Nanavaty, Director, Economic and Rural Development, Self-Employed Women's Association

Michele Norris, Host, All Things Considered, National Public Radio

Mary Robinson, Former President of Ireland; President, Realizing Rights – The Ethical Globalization Initiative

James E. Rogers, Chairman, President, and CEO, Duke Energy Corporation

Kate Stohr, Managing Director and Co-Founder, Architecture for Humanity

INFRASTRUCTURE BREAKOUT SESSION:

SEMINAR: THE INFRASTRUCTURE OF PLACE: SUSTAINABILITY AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

Thursday, September 24, 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Cities are bustling centers of economic activity, innovation, and intellectual capital – and they rely on infrastructure to function. Rethinking and reinvesting in the underpinnings of urban development, land use, and transportation can set the stage for a new wave of economic prosperity that reverses old patterns of waste and inequality. Much of tomorrow's infrastructure is already standing today, and many of our current buildings pollute and consume massive amounts of energy. Rebuilding communities to meet energy and environmental challenges, and to manage the press of urbanization in the developing world, can be a source of jobs and consumer savings while improving long-term sustainability. This session will look at innovative approaches to the modern city, public transportation, financing energy efficiency, and restoring economic opportunity.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Wesley Clark, Former United States Army General; Chairman and CEO, Wesley K. Clark and Associates, LLC

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Ritt Bjerregaard, Lord Mayor of Copenhagen

Nancy Kete, Director, EMBARQ - The WRI Center for Sustainable Transport

Clay Nesler, Vice President, Global Energy and Sustainability, Johnson Controls, Inc.

Albina Ruiz, Executive Director, Ciudad Saludable

Ron Sims, Deputy Secretary, Department of Housing and Urban Development

Vijay V. Vaitheeswaran, Global Correspondent, The Economist; Co-Author, "ZOOM"

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:

INVESTING FOR IMPACT

Thursday, September 24, 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

An emerging destination for financial capital is “impact investing,” which aims to generate social and/or environmental value in addition to financial returns. This session will identify large gaps in the availability of financial services for critical needs and gather diverse participants involved in impact investing to help build the infrastructure that is needed to grow and coordinate this market.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:

PLENARY SESSION:

HUMAN CAPITAL - CREATING GOOD JOBS AND STRONG COMMUNITIES

Thursday, September 24, 1:00 PM - 2:00 PM ★ Metropolitan Ballroom, 2nd floor

Access to education, health care, and work is an essential foundation for a prosperous community. It is more important than ever in the face of the recession, which has cost 50 million jobs and pushed millions back into poverty. Yet some 180 million children work instead of attending school. Many in school fail to achieve their potential because of the lack of teachers. Even in developed countries, many young people do not get the education they need to succeed in the high-tech knowledge economy that will determine future competitiveness. There are, however, inspiring examples of partnerships between companies, governments, and civic leaders who are building opportunity in a way that makes sound business sense.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Her Majesty Queen Rania Al Abdullah, Queen of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan

Kah Walla, Managing Director, STRATEGIES!

Marilyn Carlson Nelson, Chairman, Carlson

Nicholas D. Kristof, Columnist, The New York Times; Co-Author, "Half the Sky"

Andrew N. Liveris, Chairman and CEO, The Dow Chemical Company

HUMAN CAPITAL BREAKOUT SESSION:

TOWNHALL: DEVELOPING THE 21ST CENTURY WORKFORCE

Thursday, September 24, 2:30 PM - 4:30 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

From the United States to Uganda, too many schools and communities are failing to equip young people with the education needed to succeed. There are real opportunities for new partnerships to develop skills for the knowledge-based, low-carbon economies of the future, to retrain people who have lost their jobs in the crisis, to create new types of green jobs, and to improve the teaching of science, math, health, and business. Companies have a clear interest in finding ways to develop the human capital not only of their own workers and business partners but also of the young people in the communities and countries in which they operate.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Her Majesty Queen Rania Al Abdullah, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

Carlton Brown, Chief Operating Officer, Full Spectrum of NY LLC

TOWNHALL: LEADERSHIP AND JOBS TO OVERCOME HUMANITARIAN CRISIS

Thursday, September 24, 2:30 PM - 4:30 PM ★ New York East, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Long after wars, natural disasters, and refugee crises have ended, millions of people still face the long process of rebuilding their shattered lives and communities. Given that natural disasters are likely to increase with climate change, there is enormous need for governments, foundations, NGOs, and the business community to work together more creatively in three areas of building human capital: First, creating better forms of preparedness. Second, encouraging job creation and entrepreneurship. Third, rebuilding health and education systems. Inspirational examples of such partnerships already exist in Liberia, Haiti, Afghanistan, New Orleans and thousands of other once-devastated communities. This breakout session will focus on how existing collaborative efforts can be taken to scale and new ones implemented.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS:

René Préval, President of the Republic of Haiti

Hany El Banna, President, Islamic Relief

Helene D. Gayle, President and CEO, CARE USA

SEMINAR: LEADERSHIP AND SOLUTIONS TO END HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND FORCED LABOR

Thursday, September 24, 2:30 PM - 4:30 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd floor

(Sign-up required)

Today, according to some research, human trafficking, slavery, and involuntary migration quietly ensnare the lives of more than 25 million people. These practices permeate many of the world's supply chains, and are an emerging concern in the private sector. Fortunately, corporations, governments, and civil society can take several specific steps to help end these practices and avoid reputational risk and liability. This panel will help educate participants on the key issues, with a focus on practical and constructive solutions. Around the world, there are inspiring examples of major corporations, celebrities, governmental organizations and NGOs who are raising awareness and mobilizing actions aimed at ensuring that no person is trafficked or enslaved. This session will equip audience members with practical ideas and constructive next steps to help improve the lives of millions of vulnerable men, women, and children.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND SLAVERY: DEVELOPING PROFITABLE SUPPLY CHAINS THAT PROTECT WORKERS

Thursday, September 24, 4:30 PM - 6:00 PM ★ Liberty 3, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

By some calculations, there are 27 million slaves in the world today, more than any other time in human history. Although the connection between business and human trafficking and slavery may not be initially evident, companies can take constructive steps to protect themselves from supply chains involving slavery. This session will explore concrete next steps that every organization can take on this issue.

ACTION NETWORK WORKSHOP:
MAINTAINING A FOCUS ON U.S. DOMESTIC EFFORTS

Thursday, September 24, 4:30 PM - 6:00 PM ★ Riverside Suite, 3rd Floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Today's unprecedented economic crisis has put enormous strain on already challenged communities across the United States. This room will be organized differently from the other Action Network sessions. In this Action Network, participants will be convened based on their interest in one of four challenges: education, health, economic empowerment, and climate change.

INFRASTRUCTURE SPECIAL SESSION:
BUILDING A BETTER FUTURE - A PROGRESS REPORT ON MAKING IT RIGHT IN NEW ORLEANS

Thursday, September 24, 5:00 PM - 6:15 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

The aftermath of Hurricane Katrina offers powerful lessons for the global community as we prepare for a future shaped by global warming and recovery from economic crisis. The collision of natural disaster, persistent poverty, and failed public infrastructure investments proved lethal for the people of New Orleans. In response, a commitment launched through CGI is trying to "Make it Right." This special session offers a progress report on this CGI commitment, demonstrating concretely how government, non-profits, and the private sector can work together to build safer, stronger, and more resilient communities while expanding economic opportunity. From one of the greatest disasters in American history, "Make it Right" is laying the groundwork for new prosperity and new beginnings on a foundation of affordable green housing. The discussion will include specific stories of the recovery in New Orleans, and launch a dialogue with CGI members on the future of green infrastructure and sustainable cities.

FINANCE BREAKOUT SESSION:

TOWNHALL: HARNESSING FINANCIAL MARKETS FOR THE GLOBAL GOOD

Friday, September 25, 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM ★ Empire East, 2nd Floor

(Sign-up required)

The slowing of capital flows (private, public, and philanthropic) increases the need for double (or triple) bottom line investors. Capital market solutions can raise billions in long-term financing required to address global challenges in climate change, health care, education, poverty, and other areas. This breakout session will examine the infrastructure necessary for generating, supporting, and measuring investments to leverage more finance from a greater variety of sources, channeled to points of high impact in ways that produce clear social as well as financial returns. It will identify the roles that policymakers, regulators, investors, entrepreneurs, and financial markets can play in building an infrastructure that engenders and supports high impact, long-term investing.

COMMITMENTS PRESENTER:

Friday, September 25, 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM ★ New York West, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Millions of poor families have gained access to financial services through microfinance over the last thirty years. But there are two demographics currently below and above the reach of most microfinance – the extremely poor (the bottom billion) and the small business entrepreneur (the missing middle). This breakout session will examine scalable innovations now underway to extend financial inclusion to these two demographics so that they too can help create equitable financial systems and become part of the answer to solving world challenges like poverty, access to health care and education, and climate change.

SEMINAR: CROSSING BORDERS BETWEEN PUBLIC, PRIVATE, AND PHILANTHROPIC FINANCE

Friday, September 25, 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM ★ New York East, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Philanthropic, public, and profit-seeking investors have begun to find creative ways to collaborate in financing responses to some of the world's most intractable problems. This breakout session will look at creative finance tools being used to share the risks and rewards of investing in solutions to poverty, access to health care and education, and climate change. The focus will be on profiling financial innovations that can cross sectors while leveraging the comparative advantages of private, public, and philanthropic capital. By spotlighting collaborative financing models and tools, and the impact of investing metrics being used to chart their successes, these models and tools can be spread more widely throughout the public, private, and philanthropic worlds.

PLUGGING INTO SMART ENERGY: BEYOND THE GRID

Friday, September 25, 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM ★ Liberty 3, 3rd floor

(Sign-up required)

Action Networks are small targeted sessions intended for members who want a deeper discussion on a specific topic and who want to identify like-minded partners within that topic area.

Electricity is the only clean-in-use, mass-deployable energy medium that can easily migrate from fossil-based sources to tomorrow's renewable ones. This Action Network will serve as a platform for the corporate sector to apply IT to the future of smart energy in the context of commercial buildings, homes, industrial facilities, and the electric grid. It will also provide a forum for discussion of the standards in place to ensure that an uncoordinated patchwork of technology does not develop.
